The UWC movement – a history

“I regard it as the foremost task of education to insure the survival of these qualities: an enterprising curiosity, an undefeatable spirit, tenacity in pursuit, readiness for sensible self denial, and above all, compassion.” - Kurt Hahn

The UWC movement was founded in 1962 by Kurt Hahn, a German educator, whose ideas were crystallised by the destruction he witnessed during the first and second World Wars. In 1958 Hahn was inspired by the cooperation between former adversaries he witnessed at a NATO Staff Conference. He was convinced that education should prepare young people for a life with service, leadership and meaningful action at its heart. By educating young people from around the world together, he thought that future conflicts could be prevented. From this belief in the power of education to change the world, the UWC movement was born, with a mission to make education a force to unite people, nations and cultures for peace and a sustainable future.

Today, there are 17 UWC schools and colleges around the world, with UWCSEA in Singapore the largest of these. As well as providing an international education for young people living in Singapore, each year the UWC movement and UWCSEA provide scholarships for more than 100 students from all over the world to attend UWCSEA. In the words of Nelson Mandela, Former Honorary President, UWC International: “The striking thing about the United World Colleges is that they embrace the entire world across all divides of race, history, culture, wealth, religion, economic status and political belief.”

The first UWCSEA campus on Dover Road was opened in 1971 by then Prime Minister, Lee Kuan Yew, under the name of Singapore International School. In the late 1990s, the Dover Campus gradually expanded its age range from a secondary school to include primary and kindergarten students. Today, it has grown to a school of 3,000 students from Kindergarten–Grade 12. Opened in 2008, the purpose-built East Campus has grown to more than 2,500 students from Kindergarten–Grade 12.

UWCSEA students

Students at UWCSEA are selected through a process that takes a holistic view. Previous school reports and references, as well as the student’s potential to contribute, support and participate fully in the life of the College are all taken into account. Where appropriate, entry tests and English language assessments are required.

The 5,594 students currently enrolled at the College represent 90 nationalities and speak 58 different first languages.

The UWCSEA learning programme has the UWC mission as both our inspiration and our goal.

With our mission and educational goal as starting points, and basing our practice on learning principles that tell us when learning is most effective, we have developed a holistic learning programme, consisting of five elements: academics, activities, outdoor education, personal and social education and service. Through this programme, students develop the skills and qualities of the UWCSEA profile, while help them to fulfil the UWC mission to make education a force to unite people, nations and culture for peace and a sustainable future.
Academics
At UWCSEA, students experience the joy of intellectual engagement and the satisfaction of scholarly pursuit. Through the academic element of the programme, they gain an understanding of the connections between individual subjects and how to solve complex problems using different approaches.

UWCSEA is an IB World School, offering the IB Diploma Programme in Grades 11 and 12. Our K–12 academic curriculum is shaped by our mission and educational goal and guided by the UWCSEA profile and learning principles. Learning goals in languages, mathematics, sciences, the Arts, humanities, technology and physical education build logically through each grade, preparing students for the next academic challenge. UWCSEA offers the (I)GCSE programme in Grades 9 and 10, with students who enter in Grade 10 taking a Foundation IB (FIB) course.

Activities
The College offers an extensive Activities programme to students from Grade 2 onwards. More than 900 activity events take place across both campuses each week. The programme is divided into sports, arts (dance, drama, music and visual arts), leadership, clubs and special interests. It is designed to provide students with opportunities to explore new interests, develop their strengths and pursue their passions. Activities invigorate the life of the College by bringing students together for creative, athletic, leadership and other endeavours.

Outdoor Education
The opportunities for learning at UWCSEA extend far beyond the classroom as students take on experiential challenges that build resilience, collaboration and leadership. Our Outdoor Education programme offers an incremental progression of age-appropriate experiences to students across the K–12 curriculum. Whether going on a forest adventure in Malaysia in Grade 3 or trekking in Nepal in Grade 9, students develop confidence in their physical abilities and emotional resilience to withstand difficult situations.

Personal and Social Education
There are opportunities for personal and social development in all elements of the UWCSEA learning programme, but the importance of this aspect of the student experience is recognised by our dedicated Personal and Social Education (PSE) programme. The PSE programme supports students in dealing with the personal and social challenges that all young people face. From younger students identifying and celebrating mastery of new skills to Grade 12 students using their self-knowledge to select their path after graduation, the PSE programme is a dedicated time for students to explore their identity and place in the world.

Service
The Service programme empowers students to become aware, able and active contributors to the community. Students become involved in College service, where they offer a service to other members of the school community; in local service, where they connect with members of the Singapore community; and in global service, which incorporates Global Concerns (GC) projects, the Initiative for Peace and our extensive Gap Year programme. GC is a dynamic initiative enabling students to put their ideals into action by working to support causes and communities through direct links with partner organisations outside Singapore.
